Welcome to the Draft Cork County Development Plan Map Browser

Welcome to the Draft CDP Map Browser, a free and easy to use public information system displaying the detailed maps in the Draft Development Plan for County Cork. The map browser incorporates many different sets of spatial information and is innovative in its ability to overlay and analyse the data in a web browser environment.

The aim of the Map Browser is to give the public access to large scale detailed draft development plan policy map versions of all the key small scale policy maps contained in the Draft Development Plan, Volume 1 "Main Policy Material" and also provide information on the important heritage and environmental features listed in Volume 2 "Heritage and Amenity". This allows the public to be better informed about the policies proposed in the draft plan, how they may affect the county and assist them in making more informed submissions during the public consultation phase running from the 9th December 2013 to 4pm 26th February 2014.

How to use the Map Browser

The "Help" button at the top right hand corner of the map browser screen will provide access to a video clip which demonstrates how to use and navigate successfully around the map browser.
